Course books development

University teachers from both Belarus and Ukraine are drafting seven national editions of the course books for Modernised Master Programme:

- 1) Judicial and prosecutorial / investigatory ethics;
- 2) Negotiations and mediation in criminal matters;
- 3) The protection of human rights in criminal justice;
- 4) Legal problems of sentencing and execution of punishments;
- 5) The protection of information security by means of criminal law and electronic evidence;
- 6) Problems of counteracting economic and organized crime;
- 7) International legal assistance in criminal cases.

The course book No. 8 European criminal law and procedure is being drafted by CRIMHUM EU experts.

First testing of CRIMHUM teaching materials

As CRIMHUM continued its preparatory work and looked forward to full project registration in Belarus and Ukraine, some first student feedback was collected by Dr. Thomas Krüßmann, CRIMHUM manager at the University of Graz when he visited the Law Faculty of the Belarusian State University from 16-20 September 2019.

The visit was funded by the EU through the MOST project implemented by Goethe Institut in Minsk. Its goal was to offer consultations to faculty members and doctoral students, teach a series of lectures to Master students and also to work with a group of bachelor students who were in their 4th year. If CRIMHUM develops according to plan, these students will be the first ones to enjoy the possibility to study on the Master level with the specialization "Prosecution and investigation" in Minsk or Hrodna.
